HOPKINS PRINTING ADDS NEW HEIDELBERG XL 105 PRESS

COLUMBUS, OHIO (September 10, 2009) - Hopkins Printing has announced the purchase of a new Heidelberg press for its pressroom. The new press will enhance the company's printing capabilities while increasing efficiency and productivity.

The press is a new Heidelberg XL105 press with six printing units plus a coating unit. It is the fastest and highest quality press made by Heidelberg running at 18,000 sheets per hour. "This press shows our commitment to the printing industry and will give us a distinct competitive advantage in our market place," said Jim Hopkins, President of Hopkins Printing.

"This is a great addition to our fleet of printing presses and will dramatically improve what we are able to do for our customers," said Roy Waterhouse, Vice President of sales and marketing of Hopkins Printing.
